ABOUT OUR PROGRAM

The InterPARES (the International Research on Permanent Authentic Records in Electronic Systems) project aims at developing the theoretical and methodological knowledge essential to the long-term preservation of authentic records created and/or maintained in digital form. InterPARES II was initiated in 2002 and is expected to be completed in 2006. In addition to dealing with issues of authenticity, it delves into the issues of reliability and accuracy from the perspective of the entire life-cycle of records, from creation to permanent preservation.

(For more information about InterPARES, check out their website at <http://www.inter-pares.org/>)

ABOUT OUR SPEAKER

Ann Gilliland-Swetland, Associate Professor at UCLA in the Department of Information Studies, is our featured speaker. Her research interests include archives; cultural information systems; electronic records-management and record-keeping. She has received major grants from the National Science Foundation, the National Historical Publications and Records Commission, and the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, and has served as a member of the Council of the Society of American Archivists and of the Editorial Board of the American Archivist. She is a recipient of the Society's C.F.W. Coker Award and the Midwest Archives Conference Margaret Cross Norton Award. She is also a Fellow of the Society of American Archivists.
